Colonial Williamsburg Interpreter Index

1980 - 2009

The Colonial Williamsburg Foundation's Department of Interpretive Education produced The Colonial Williamsburg Interpreter for employee education. The majority of the articles were written by staff researchers and interpreters. Each issue was approximately twenty-five pages long, with black and white illustrations. Supplements to the magazine include Fresh Advices, Questions and Answers, and The Glossary. Originally a monthly, The Colonial Williamsburg Interpreter was published as a quarterly 1996-2002. In 2003 the frequency of publication changed to 3 issues per year. The last issue was Spring 2009 (Vol. 30 #1). The index was compiled by Library volunteer, Laura Arnold.

To Search: Click on the binoculars on the toolbar and enter a word or phrase and click "find".

To obtain a copy of an article, print this introductory page of the index and the entry of the article you want, and take the information to the Interlibrary Loan Department of your local library. We participate in the OCLC Interlibrary Loan computer system; our symbol is VCW.
